Antiterrorism: Exposing the Deep State

The “Deep State” is the proto-government aimed at the creation of a “New World Order” (Novus Ordo Seclorum), a world ruled by one government. This is undoubtedly the organization referred to by President John F. Kennedy in a speech given at the Waldorf Astoria in April 1961: (Cont’d. at the bottom of this frame.)

MODUS OPERENDI

Operation Rodeo

For many centuries the Rothschilds, in manipulating world history through the action of wars, always maintained control of both sides of the conflict they created. This being the case, one has to wonder why anyone would believe that Donald Trump was an independent actor. This statement is sure to trigger a chorus of groans: “How can you say that, given all that Trump has gone through in protecting his beloved nation from the Deep State?”

Exactly.

Not being privy to key classified documents, I cannot raise this issue without acknowledging the possibility that Trump is as he appears. However, the intricacies of “running” President Trump fills me with a kind of stomach-turning admiration for the operation as a whole. It has been successful enough to leave millions, maybe a hundred million, of Americans regarding Trump as the saviour of the nation. Websites promoting this view have been talking for some time now about Trump’s secret plan for overthrowing the parasitic control of the nation.

How was Trump “done” then? To begin with, Trump would need to have enough public recognition to make him a viable candidate for President. This was accomplished when NBC invited Trump to host a new program series called The Apprentice in 2004. Trump was introduced as a very successful businessman who could mentor a new generation of rising and would-be entrepreneurs. Entrants to the show competed for the favour of Trump's guidance, ever-wary of the threat of being "fired". Approximately 40% of Americans saw the show.

Almost as soon as Trump won the 2016 election, the mainstream media began a campaign of vilification, something that Trump may have fully expected, shrugging it off as the outcome of doing business with the Deep State. It must be said, that under the thesis adopted here, that Trump did a truly wonderful acting job, convincing all the democrat-leaning audience of what a despicable person he really was. Again, with the reaction shrugged off. The more he was criticized, the more his followers clung to him, thinking thoughts like "He must be doing it right because look how the Deep State hates him". The public criticism had the function of cementing Trump's position as the leaders of the nation.

And so with the "theft" of the 2020 election by the the Biden Democrats. Outraged MAGA-types demanded recounts and numerous investigations. But it was time for Trump to move into the shadows, still acting as President, of course, even as he prepares to run again in 2024. With Biden in office, the Deep State could continue to give Trump a hard time while playing catch-up with operations that had fallen behind schedule: war in Ukraine, an emerging banking crisis, the vaccination program, not to mention numerous little ops that never made headlines.

In a rodeo, the rodeo clown (Trump) Distracts the bull (the unwashed public) from attacking (the bull-rider) the Deep State.
